Requisition Granted for Michigan Man-Lee County Road Bonds Sold.

Orders were issued yesterday by Governor Mann and Adjutant-General Sale approving the judgment of the SMALL FRONT ROOM, $5; ALSO HALL room; centrally located. D 208, care four privates, charged with shooting Times-Dispatch. of violation of military rules in not taking means to stop the occurrence. In the case of Private Elmer Lenhart, the court reports that he was not | tried, and that it appeared in the hear-ing that no notice had been served upon him, as he was reported to have left the city.

George Campbell, Frank Scruggs and Harry C. Meredith pleaded guilty to discharging their weapons on the car, and had previously been convicted in Police Court of the same offense and fined $10 each.

All Are Fined.

Private Campbell is fined $20. On the charge of disobedience of orders in failing to turn over his cartridges be-fore leaving the State Fair Grounds, he was acquitted, testifying that he obeyed this order, and saying that he secured cartridges from the others.

Private Scruggs is fined $30, as he pleaded guilty not only to firing, but to failing to turn over all his cart-

Private Meredith gets a $20 fine. He was on detail, he testified, when the order to give up cartridges was given, and he did not hear it.

First Sergeant Floyd V. Joyce is fined $5 and ordered reduced to ranks. He was in command of the company while the shooting was going on, as the commissioned officers were all abfor important reasons. Joyce testified that he made some of the men stop shooting, and that the crowded condition of the car prevented him from getting to all of the offenders. He admitted that he could have stopped the car, but said it did no occur to him to do so.

Heaviest Punishment. The other sergeant, Sexton Berg, is fined $35 and reduced to ranks, this being the severest punishment inflicted. It appeared that not only did he at first not prevent the shooting, but that in fact he gave Private Campbell some of the cartridges used by the latter. Sergeant Berg said he thought Captain Stone was on the car. At last, when a woman said the noise was scaring her child, he went along the running board and ordered the men to cease uring.
Licutenant J. R. Tucker, who was acting as judge advocate, said in his argument that both the sergeants had shown their unfitness for command. It was during his giving of evidence in the Joyce case that Private Scruggs testified that a woman on the car discharged his rifle. This was after he had admitted firing the shot himself, and it was brought out on a direct question and was not offered by him. DESERTER CAPTURED

Wife Draws Pay.
Governor Mann yesterday granted a requisition asked for by Governor Charles S. Osborn, of Michigan, for Frederick I. Monroe, who is wanted in Wayne county on a charge of abandon ing and failing to support his wife and minor children.

Monroe is said to have stated that he could not work because of rheumatism, but this affliction seems to have disappeared since he enlisted in the navy at Norfolk, where he is in cus-

The way of the deserter in Michigan is hard indeed, according to Officer Amos Kinkel, who came to Virginia for the prisoner. Monroe must go to the workhouse for two years. For each day he spends there, at hard labor, his wife and each child will receive $1.50 from the State. Monroe gets bread and water. At the end of two years he is given another chance. If he falls to make good, back he goes to the workhouse.

Ringer, of Baltimore, a former pastor of the bride. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Menefee, of Pearl Strickler, of New Market. The ribbon girls were Miss Lillian Menefee, of Waynesboro; Miss Nellie Catherine Sipe, of Bridgewater; Miss Lelia Koontz, of Lacey Spring; Miss Eula Koontz, of Grove Hill; Miss Georgie A motion of Marshall McCormack for new trial was overruled, and he gave notice of appeal to the Virginia Supreme Court.

Feliner received the verdict calmly, but wept bitterly upon returning to jail. Curtis was from Rappahannock county and was managing a merry-goround at Boyce on the night of September 17 last. He and Feltver had a quarrel, and later in the night Curtis was shot and almost instancely killed.

Roanoke Contractor Injured.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke. Va., January 27.—W. W.
Boxley, a prominent contractor, returned to his home here to-day, suffering from severe injuries received in a fall at Big Four, W. Va. While overseeing some work which he is doing there in the revision of the track of the Virginian Railway, he fell from a bridge.
